Captive Reinsurance

Citadel Reinsurance Company Limited can work with your captive or cell to structure reinsurance protection either on an excess of loss or stop loss basis.

Reinsurance is essential in the early stages of a captive's life if it wants to avoid large collateral or capital investment. Citadel's experience with structuring cell and captive reinsurance is second to none.

In addition to providing live reinsurance protections, Citadel Re has the capability to assist with run-off or legacy program risk transfer. Risk transfer can be achieved via a reinsurance assumption and novation agreement, where all remaining risk is quarantined in order to enable a final liquidation or dividend to shareholders. Citadel Risk will also consider full purchase of the run-off captive if assumption or loss portfolio transfer (LPT) is not achievable.
